This Is Hallowe'en, But The Marshal Will Get You If You Don't Watch Out

PLAYERS KILLED

THE PERDU FOOTBALL TEAM IN A SERIOUS WRECK.

ON THE BIG FOUR

A Section of a Gravel Train Runs
Into the Special, Cutting it in Two and Telescoping Cars with Loss of Life.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 31.—This morning a train on the Big Four was wrecked just at the edge of town. The football team from Purdue University was on the train and several of the players were severely injured, and probably fatally hurt. Twelve bodies have been taken from the wreck, and there are still other bodies in the debris. The dead that have been identified are:

E. J. Robertson, Indianapolis, Ind.
Walter R. Ouch, Pittsburg, Pa.
R. J. Howell, Corpus Christi, Tex.
Sam Squibb, Lafayette, Ind.
M. D. Hamilton, Huntington, Ind.
M. Hamilton, Lafayette, Ind.
G. S. Drollinger, beheaded.
W. H. Grube, substitute player from Butler.
Willer Furr, substitute from Corpus Christi, Texas.
N. R. Howard, Lafayette, Ind.
Willer Robertson,
Patrick McClure, Chicago.
Samuel Truitt, Noblesville, Ind., substitute quarter back.

C. L. Shaw, student La Fayette
Among the injured are:
Joe Knall, Evansville, Ind.
Joe Miller, both legs broken.
Dr. Billings seriously injured.
W. H. Leslie, captain of foot-ball team of last year, seriously hurt.
Capt. Osborn, of foot-ball team, seriously hurt.

The wreck was caused by a train of cars running down from the gravel pit and striking the students' special. The first car of the special train was cut squarely in two, and the second car occupied by the Purdue band, was telescoped. Many students in the rear cars were considerably shaken up.

The injured will number forty, and twenty-four of these are seriously hurt. The train wrecked was a special carrying nearly a thousand passengers. These were on their way from Lafayette, where Purdue University is located, to this place to witness a foot-ball contest between the Purdue and Indianapolis Universities. There is yet confusion as to what caused the accident. The engineer of the switching train and the engineer of the passenger train each claiming that he was acting under orders and had no knowledge of the other train. A deep cut where the accident occurred prevented the engineers from seeing each other until too late. The crash was so great that it threw two coal cars through two of the passenger coaches in which were many of the players and the substitutes, and the two cars and the two coaches were crushed into a confused mass, and underneath all this debris were fifty or more students. The work of rescuing the injured and bearing away the dead was carried on by the students until outside help arrived. Many of the students were girls and they worked with a heroism that was touching indeed until surgical help came. The condition of some of the bodies taken out was frightful. One body was completely beheaded.

The wounds of the injured men were dressed temporarily and they were hurried away to a hospital. The dead were removed as fast as they could be taken from the wreck. Among the last bodies taken out were those of W. H. Grube and Walter Farr of Texas. Their mangled bodies were found buried under overturned tender and were crushed almost beyond recognition. It required the combined work of the wrecking crew and many city firemen and police to get the bodies out. The tender was raised with derricks and the bodies drawn out.

BRIDAL COUPLES GALORE.

Not Much Attention Being Paid to a Recent Order.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 31.—The young officers of the army apparently are paying little heed to the declaration of Adjutant General Corbin that they should not marry but wait until their pay becomes large enough to support two persons. Advices received at the war department show that nearly one dozen bridal couples are among the passengers on the transport Sheridan, sailing today from San Francisco for Manila. The bridegrooms are mostly officers of the Twenty-second Infantry, which regiment has been ordered to the Philippines. Prominent among the couples is Capt. John R. R. Hannay and his bride, who was Miss Elizabeth Young, daughter of Lieut. Gen. S. M. B. Young.

JOHN MITCHELL ILL.

Threatened with Appendicitis, and Operation May Be Necessary.
Scranton, Pa., Oct. 31.—John Mitchell, of the United Mine Workers, is ill at a hotel in this city and has broken several local engagements. It is feared that he will be compelled to postpone his visit to New York account of his weakness. It is said that the indications are that he has appendicitis, and the physicians as yet are not able to agree on the necessity for an operation.

WOMAN EMBEZZLES $47,000.

Her Craze Was Cab Riding, Now She Will Ride to the Pen.

New York, Oct. 31.—Marie Layton who was arrested a few weeks ago by the officers at the instance of the United States Paying Company, today pleaded guilty to the charge of embezzlement. She is reported to have made a complete confession, showing that she had diverted from the company's bank account $47,000. For six years she was the confidential clerk in the New York offices, and she is now awaiting sentence for her crime. The woman has returned $5,000 to her employers, being all the money she had saved from the theft.

In her confession she mentions the name of a prominent officer of a New York corporation, who she says profited by her stealings. It is alleged that he got her to cash worthless checks. Much of the money went in high living and to satisfy her craze for cab riding.

COURSING MEET IN OKLAHOMA.

Oklahoma's Capital to Enjoy a Dog Show.

Oklahoma City, O. T., Oct. 31.—Scores of dogs, the product of careful breeding and training, are taking part in the Waterloo an American Derby coursing meet which was formally opened here today. The meet will continue through the greater part of the coming week. The officials in charge of the meeting are R. J. Riley of San Francisco, Judge, and John Eagon of St. Louis, starter. From early indications the meet will prove the most notable event of the kind ever pulled off in this part of the country.

DOWIE'S FATHER

THE FATHER AND SON DO NOT AGREE.

THE RECORDS SHOW

The Elder Dowie Much Cast Down
by the Outrageous Treatment Accorded Him by "Elijah the Prophet."

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 31.—A dispatch from Essex, Iowa, says that John Murray Dowie is crushed by the attack lately made on him by his son, the famous John Alexander Dowie who is now trying to convert New York.

The father says, "The statement that I am not the father of John Alexander Dowie is the greatest myth ever uttered by the mouth of man. It is scandalous that my son should repudiate me after I have done so much for him. He is my son and was born in lawful wedlock. No one can deny the records, and they may be had at the register's office in Princess St. Edinburgh, Scotland. Judge Dowie is respected by the entire community, and the recent trouble has aged him greatly."

TUESDAY'S ELECTIONS.

A Glance Ahead from the National Capital as to the Battle of Ballots.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 31.—The elections of next Tuesday, taking place just twelve months before the presidential canvass, are naturally awaited with great interest by the general public, and especially by the party leaders. For the first time in a dozen years the money question has been almost entirely eliminated from the political discussions. The Democrats of many states ignored the subject, and the Republicans have not shown a disposition to revive a controversy that attracted so much attention through three campaigns. About the only approach to national issues has been in the effort of the Democrats to force to the front the question of tariff revision and regulation of the trusts. It seems doubtful, however, if these questions have received sufficient attention to become real factors in the election.

The policy of the Republicans in all the states where elections are to be held, in presenting the situation from a general view point, has been to ask for indorsement of the party's record for the last seven years. "Prosperity" has been the rallying cry of the party in power.

Some of the state situations are attracting national attention. The principal ones are Maryland, Kentucky, Iowa, and Ohio. Massachusetts which elects a governor every year, and which seldom chooses a Democrat, will in all probability be carried by the Republicans by a large majority next week. The Republicans also expect to carry Rhode Island, for the Socialist issue which made it Democratic in 1902 is not so potent now as a year ago. Mississippi will elect Vardman by a majority which can be made large or small, at the will of the Democrats, for the Republicans have no organization worthy of the name in that state.

The campaign in Ohio is probably attracting most attention. A full state ticket is to be elected, and the seat in the United States senate now held by Mr. Hanna is at stake. Possibly the fact that the chairman of the Republican national committee is the candidate for the senate tends to add interest to the contest. It is also true that the political future of Tom L. Johnson, the Democratic nominee for governor, is involved in the result. If he should be elected he would immediately be placed among the list of presidential possibilities. A crushing defeat would, it is believed, end his political career. As for Myron T. Herrick, the Republican nominee, his election would make him a conspicuous figure in national politics.

Naturally a great deal of interest is given to the contest in Maryland, on account of Senator Gorman's presidential aspirations. A victory for the Democrats in that state—and the chances seem to be that they will be victorious—will have a tendency to strengthen the hands of those who want to have the race question put in the national platform. A Democratic victory will also be received by the country as a personal tribute to Senator Gorman, and will aid him in the national convention of 1904. It is known that he is using all his power to get a majority for the Democratic candidate for governor, Edwin Warfield. The Republicans, on the other hand, are making a very active canvass with a strong ticket, and are hopeful of victory. The legislature to be elected will choose a successor to United States Senator McComas.

Iowa has been a sort of tariff revision storm center, but the general result will probably not be influenced one way or the other by the tariff discussion that has taken place out there. There was some expectation early in the year that the issue would reduce the Republican majority, on account of the divergence—the so-called "Iowa Idea"—between the party in that state and in the rest of the country, but Iowa Republicans swung to the side of their brethren in the rest of the country, and from what can be learned at headquarters here there appears to be no danger of Republican defeat there next week.

The canvass in Kentucky is exciting, the issues, however, being chiefly local, but as many Democrats, including ex-Governor Simon B. Buckner, are supporting the Republicans, the campaign is attracting the country's attention. The probability, nevertheless, is that the Democrats will hold the state. Governor Beckham heads the state ticket as a candidate for re-election. His opponent on the Republican ticket is Morris B. Belknap of Louisville.

From a national viewpoint it can be said that of the several states that are to vote next Tuesday the results in Maryland, Ohio, Iowa and Kentucky will be the only ones that will afford any indication of the true direction and force of the partisan currents on the eve of the presidential canvass.

In Delaware Addickism is again the issue, but it has been the issue there for so many years that the country at large has, apparently, lost interest in the fight.

KEEP DAY LUTHER MARKED.

ALL OVER THE WORLD.

ROSWELL AFFECTED

A High Electric Wave Has Passed
Through the Earth and the Telephone and Telegraph Companies
Have Been Suffering.—At Places
Communication Entirely Cut Off.

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 31.—Last night and today great inconvenience has been caused the telegraph and telephone companies throughout this section of country. The disturbance is said to be due to the Aurora Borealis or Northern Lights. Telegraph wires in all directions have felt the result, and in some localities there has been a total cessation of business. Long distance telephone wires have been so affected that all communication has been suspended at times. One report says that a high electric wave with high force has passed through the earth, paralyzing the strength of the wires.

New York, Oct. 31.—The telegraph companies of France have sent out word that all business entrusted to them must be subject to heavy delay.

Roswell, N. M., Oct. 31.—The same disturbance has affected the wires in this part of the country. The RECORD press dispatches today have been delayed several hours on this account.

Church Congress.

Pittsburg, Pa., Oct. 31.—Advices received by the committee in charge of the local arrangements indicate that the church congress which is to convene in this city next week will be one of the best attended gatherings of its kind ever held in the United States. Bishop Vinton of Western Massachusetts will preside and among the other eminent churchmen who will take part are Bishop Doane of Albany, Bishop Potter of New York, Bishop Boyd Vincent and the Rev. Dr. W. S. Rainsford.

Some of the live questions scheduled for discussion deal with marriage and divorce, the training of the clergy, the limitations of industrial liberty, and the miraculous element in Christianity. The advisability of changing the name of the church will also be considered.
